A teenage girl died in an auto accident and 21 persons were injured in traffic mishaps throughout the Quad-City area during the weekend. A total of 24 accidents was reported to area authorities, with injuries resulting in 14 of them.

A 17-year-old East St. Louis girl was killed, a man was critically hurt and three teenagers were seriously injured at 10:30 p.m. Saturday in an auto-truck crash on Route 203 a half-mile north of Interstate Route 70 at Bend road.

Miss Druella Bledsoe, 17, of 2623 St. Louis avenue, East St. Louis, was killed. She was a Scott Air Force Base clerk-typist.

State police said the truck was operated by Normande Ducharme, 30, of 1001 One North Windham, Conn. He and his passenger, John Sadler, 27, St. Louis, Conn., escaped apparent injury.

The truck driver said he had halted at a stop sign and noticed the auto was "falling way off." As the truck made a left turn, it was struck in the rear wheels by the car, Ducharme related.

Third United Fund Report Due Wednesday

With two of five report meetings past, United Fund campaign volunteer workers are at the 47-45 level as the mid-way mark of the five-week $384,000 drive nears.

Mitchell Milonski, general chairman, is reminding the vision and section leaders of the third report meeting which will be held at noon Wednesday in the YMCA auditorium.

A large gain is anticipated in donations from big industries. At last week's report meeting, the Industrial Employers' drive, headed by Thomas Dickfield, soared to 78% of its $170,000 goal, while the Industrial Firms Division headed by Paul Kemp and Robert Hess was at 22.7% of its $140,000 quota.

Goal by Nov. 8

Milonski and drive vice-chairman Gerhard Allen today urged volunteer workers to step up their calls to boost the campaign totals not only for this Wednesday's report meeting but also to look toward hitting the $384,000 goal by the Nov. 8 deadline.

They are stressing the need for meeting the requests of the 20 United Fund agencies that serve the Quad-Cities in providing services for persons and families in need of help.

"I know it's not going to be an easy job this year, because actually employment in this area is down," Milonski noted. "But that means we, the volunteer workers, are going to have to work harder because there will be more people in need of the services offered by us."

Hospitalized servicemen are furnished needed social welfare and recreation, and financial assistance is provided in emergencies.

Message from General

Milonski is sending to the United Fund volunteer workers a special message from General Westmoreland, commander in Vietnam.

The general has this to say to the Red Cross and its volunteers:

"Here on the battlefields of Vietnam, I have watched our men in combat for more than three years. They fight under the most extreme conditions—in chest-deep water and mud, through mangrove swamps and bamboo thickets; in dense jungles and over rugged mountainous terrain."

"Supporting our American Forces in Vietnam and maintaining a communication link with the families at home is the American Red Cross."

Alongside Fighting Men

"Here alongside our fighting men, the Red Cross is providing them with the necessities of life."

Officer Rescues Boy From Smoke- Filled Apartment

A seven-year-old boy who remained in an upstairs bedroom of a smoke-filled apartment during a fire early this morning was rescued by a Madison police officer who a few minutes earlier, with another officer, had carried two other children to safety from an apartment next door.

The fire was discovered in the wall between apartments 82 and 83 of the Garesche Homes in Madison about 3:45 a.m. by Melvin Szerzinski, who with his wife and four children occupies apartment 83. The alarm was received at police headquarters at 3:50 a.m.

When Patrolmen R. J. and D. Grzywacz and Theodore Skokio arrived, they reported, they found that all of the children were outside. The son was still in the building which had become so filled with smoke that it was impossible to see. The officer ran back into the building and up the stairs to the bedroom where the children were, finally locating Timothy John Bahr, seven, in a bed, huddled against the wall.

Boy Was Crying

The boy was crying, the officer said, as he was being carried down the steps. The youngsters were unharmed, but police said it would have been only a matter of minutes until he would have been asphyxiated by the dense smoke.

Mrs. Edwards said she had carried the baby, Sheila Edwards, four months old, and with her husband guided the other children out of the house. She said she did not miss Tim, who was outside.

The other Edwards children are ages six, four and two.

Firemen said the fire of unknown origin was confined to the bedrooms inside the fire.

Professional Engineers Told

Billion Bonds Vital to Anti-Pollution Control

Passage of a proposed $1 billion bond issue by Illinois voters in November 1968 is vital to the control of air, water and recreation resources in the state, Gene H. Graves, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, told engineers at a conference here Friday night.

Speaking before a conference of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn, he said that Gov. Kerner and the General Assembly, on a bipartisan basis, have taken the first step in a bold stroke designed to reverse the mounting imbalance between modern man and his natural environment.

"The proposed Illinois Resource Development Program, financed by a $1 billion bond issue, is a landmark in the history of public use at 9 a.m. Friday."

The rink's 85 by 185-foot skating area has been "iced up" during the past week, workmen are putting the finishing touches on landscaping and the rink will be open for skating on Friday's scheduled opening, according to Park Supt. Harold Brown.

Although the regular rink skating schedule calls for a 3 p.m. opening on Friday's opening day will be an exception because Friday will be a school holiday for public school students. The first daily skating sessions are scheduled from 5:30 to 8 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

In addition, a series of special skating hours is planned in conjunction with or as special additions to the regular scheduled sessions. These include classes in instructions, family nights, adult nights and hockey skill instructions.

On weekdays, because school is in session and children are busy, the rink will be open from 5:30 to 8 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. These include classes in instructions, family nights, adult nights and hockey skill instructions.

Stamps and his three co-defendants were charged with murder after the Nov. 23, 1965, riot at Menard penitentiary in which three guards were stabbed to death. All four were inmates at the time. Jones was identified as the ringleader of the disturbance.

All were heavily shackled as they were led into court by guards for sentencing. Judge Douglas, earlier last week, overruled post-trial motions for a new trial and conducted a

750 Attend Scout Camporee Held At University

Twelve hundred persons attended the Chokoma Mound Boy Scout fall camporee campfire at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus Saturday evening, highlighting a three-day camporee.

Using five acres of university land, 43 Boy Scout troops and five Explorer posts pitched tents and competed in outdoor skills. All three districts, Uniwah, Illinois and Kickapoo, were represented.

"Due to excellent weather and an ideal university campsite, the camporee was unusually successful," John Solenberg, council chairman of activities commented. "From the time of registration to the closing of the camporee, all 750 campers kept an ideal scouting spirit."

With most of troops preparing themselves for camp on Friday night, Saturday morning was set aside for the closing of the camporee, all 750 campers kept an ideal scouting spirit.

The morning also included the friendship game that had been conducted at the world jamboree at Farragut Park, Idaho, this summer. John Peck, program coordinator related, "Its purpose is to encourage individual friendship between members of patrols and troops; each member of a patrol receives a letter of the word 'Friendship,' and must go to the troop to spell out the word."

Skill Competition

After lunch, there was inter-patrol competition: first, where patrols were given first aid problems to solve; observation, where patrols were to discover the height of a flagpole; and signaling, where the patrol received and read a word.

The campfire consisted of a variety of features with the Alpha Phi Omega scouting fraternity in charge.

Postmaster, dressed in Indian regalia, to dance several dances; Alpha Phi Omega led singing, skits and introductions; Carl E. Mathias, council president and area manager of Illinois Power Co., spoke and

Control of Fire Dept. At Issue In Venice

Method of Selecting Chief Being Changed Through New Code

Written objections protesting the proposed placing of the Venice volunteer fire department under the mayor and the city council were presented to Mayor John E. Lee Friday night as the ordinance was introduced before the council for the first time.

The objections were drafted by fire department members in Venice, since it is to be included in the revised city code prepared by City Attorney Harry E. Hartman and now near passage stage.

In a written statement handed to Mayor Lee by Fire Chief William Mehan during the regular council meeting, fire department members specifically objected to the section of the ordinance providing that the chief of the fire department and his two assistants be appointed by the mayor, subject to confirmation by the council.

Chief Elected

In the past, the chief of the department has been elected by the fire department, subject to appointment by the mayor and confirmation by the council. The chief then appointed his own two assistant chiefs.

The statement given the council pointed out that this procedure of naming the chief and his assistants is not established as a volunteer unit in Venice in 1890.

Mayor Lee said the council, "There it is. If you want to change it, it's up to you."

Only Means of Control

Alderman Charles Hampton remarked that the proposed new ordinance would be the only method of control the city would have over operation of the fire department, "unless we were to hold up the money, and that is a pretty thing."

Mayor Lee noted that "one of the reasons the city wants this procedure is because the expense of the fire department is a burden on the city. The ordinance of payment for the department."

Mayor Lee added that "actual selection of the chief and assistants probably will remain the same as it is, with the exception of the fire department. We have no intention of fighting with the fire department."

"The idea is to put the responsibility in the hands of the council, since the city would be responsible in the event something goes wrong. What would prevent the whole department from quitting at the same time, or some similar emergency?"

Mehan said after the meeting that so far as he knew, no further protest on the ordinance was planned.

Discussion Examination Terms

Prior to the meeting, Mehan and Assistant Fire Chiefs Mitchell and Leatherman Jr., and Thomas A. Scaturro discussed with council members the propriety of another section of the ordinance.

Venice Police Locate Cat That Bit Child

A stray cat attacked a three-year-old girl in Venice Friday afternoon, inflicting severe scratches and bites. But the painful series of rabies shots was avoided by quick action by Venice police.

Paula Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sanders, 1000 Third street, Venice, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment. Police reported she had nine severe scratches to the upper right arm, nine scratches to the lower right arm, and bites on the upper left arm, chest and back.

The cat was located a short time later and was confined by Humane Officer Joseph Meahan for observation.

State Cites 44% Cut in Industrial Emissions Here

A 44% drop in industrial dirt emitted to the air in the Illinois portion of the St. Louis Metropolitan area since 1963 was announced Saturday by Clarence W. Klassen, technical secretary of the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board.

In a single county, Madison, industrial particulate emissions were reduced by nearly 60%, from 24,000 tons in 1963 to a present rate of 10,000 tons per year.

In the St. Clair county portion of the urbanized area, pollutant emissions have been reduced by nearly 30%, from 22,000 to 15,000 tons per year.

GC Steel Modernization
Klassen said the reductions in Madison county were due primarily to new fully-continuous steelmaking processes at Granite City Steel Co., a 50% reduction in coal usage at the Venable power plant conversion at the Reilly Ray & Chemical Co., and the abandonment of open burning.

In St. Clair county reductions are due primarily to a reduction in solid fuel usage at the Calumet power plant, improved and controlled smelting processes at the American Zinc Co., closure of an uncontrolled fertilizer process and abatement of open burning of refuse.

Other notable industrial improvements reducing atmospheric emissions include modern incineration equipment for removing insulation from wire at Cerro Copper and Brass Co., discontinuance of open burning of tire treading at Midwest Rubber Recycling Co., and installation of scrubbers to remove phenolic odors at Monsanto Chemical Co.

Decrease in Emissions
The Interstate Study of 1963 reported emissions of industrial particulate matter amounting to 46,000 tons per year in the Illinois Metropolitan Area. Currently, emissions of these contaminants amount to less than 26,000 tons per year and originate primarily from fuel combustion and industrial processes in the bi-county area. It was noted.

The area is bounded by Interstate 270, Illinois Thru, Illinois 177 and the St. Clair county line.
"While these reductions are significant," Klassen said, "this is just the beginning of a program to clean up the air from industrial emissions in the area."
"Further reductions are anticipated as a result of the new rules and regulations of the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board, which set limits on the emission of particulate matter from fuel combustion and industrial processes."

Suit Transfer Plea Before U.S. Court

Hearing on a motion that a lawsuit charging A. O. Smith Corp. with failure to abide by a union contract be removed to jurisdiction of the U.S. District court dockets at Springfield, it was reported today.

The suit originally was filed in circuit court at Edwardsville by Boltermakers Union Local 578, but the company petitioned for removal of the case to federal court, according to Harold Gruenberg, St. Louis attorney for the union.

He said that if the request to place the proceedings in federal court is granted, a hearing then will be scheduled on a motion by the company that the union provide more details on its claims.
The suit charges the firm failed to abide by contract provisions for job bidding and assignment, relief and transfer of union members. The contract expires Dec. 31 and unless the issue is settled before that date, the suit would be ineffective, Gruenberg said.

Manslaughter, Armed Robbery Cases Dropped

A charge of voluntary manslaughter of Eugene McNair of Venice was dismissed in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville last week.

Also dismissed last week was a charge of armed robbery against Billy Lee Sullivan, 33, of Mounds, Ill., who was arrested in connection with the shooting of a woman in a St. Louis suburb last week.

Meanwhile the murder trial of Willie Wallace, 29, of Granite City, who was listed on last week's criminal court setting, was continued until a future setting. He is charged in the fatal shooting of Terry Thweatt Jr., 17, of Granite City, on Oct. 15, when the Full Moon tavern on Route 111.

The admission payment will be required.
Sunday Skating Sessions
Sunday rink sessions will be from 1 to 3:30 p.m., 3:30 to 6 p.m., 6 to 8:30 p.m. and 8:30 to 10:30 p.m.

In all instances, however, the last Sunday session from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. will be set aside as adult night. Children of high school age or under will not be admitted, but park officials said youths who are out of high school will be admitted, but must pay the regular adult admission fee.

Admission fees will be divided into two categories, with one schedule for residents of Granite City and one for non-residents. The differences in fee is 25 cents for children, who as residents will pay 35 cents admission for each skating session, but as non-residents will pay 60 cents. The adult fee for residents is set at 75 cents, while non-resident adults will pay $1.25 for each session.

Rental, Sharpening Fees
Skate rentals will be 50 cents and will be the same for all skaters, who also will pay the same price for sharpening skates. Fees for sharpening skates have been set at 50 cents for hockey skates and 75 cents for figure skates.

As an additional concession to residents, arrangements have been made to sell books of admission tickets at a price of $7 for adults and $3 for children, each book containing ten tickets. This reduces the resident fee to 70 cents for adults and 35 cents for children at each skating session.

Rink operators will identify resident skaters through identification cards which skaters must show when they pay rental fees. Issuance of ID cards was begun at the park district office at Wilson Park Saturday and was continuing this week. The cards including the attached colorphoto of the applicant will cost 35 cents through Dec. 31, when the price will be raised to 50 cents.

Physical Improvement Class For Men Starting at YMCA

Classes for men designed to improve the efficiency of the heart, lungs, and circulatory system will start at the "Y" this week. It was announced today by Forrest Cockrell, YMCA physical director.

Calisthenics, running, swimming and limited weight training will be used in these classes. While the primary purpose is to improve endurance and cardiovascular efficiency, other benefits to be derived are increased muscle tone, agility and a flexibility, Cockrell said.

Pulse rate tests will be given before and after exercise in order to determine the "recovery rate," (return to normal heart beat) of the individual.

Individual exercise programs can be set up by consultation with the physical director. He recommends that for best results, a man should exercise continuously for 20 to 30 minutes, three to five times a week.

Classes will meet at noon on Tuesday and Thursday and at 5 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Further information may be secured by calling the YMCA, 876-7200.

Women's classes in fitness are being conducted on Tuesday at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. and on Thursday at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. by Mrs. Betty Harman. Classes are still open for enrollment.

Parked Car Damaged
A parked car owned by Robert Russell, Bend road, was damaged late Friday night when struck by a car that left the scene. Madison police said Russell's car was parked in the 1800 block of Third street when it was damaged.

Men in Vietnam To Get 180 Ditty Bags From Here

Through the cooperation of local organizations and individuals, the Tri-City chapter of the American Red Cross has shipped 180 "ditty bags" to members of the armed forces in Vietnam.

Jack Absalom, chapter chairman, and Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, executive secretary, report that this and similar programs in other Red Cross chapters throughout the U. S. have as their goal a ditty bag for every American serviceman in Vietnam by Christmas.

The bags prepared by Quad-Cities groups contained ballpoint pens, paperback books, plastic soap cases, toothbrush holders, cigarette cases, snapshot holders, sandwich bags, terry handcloths, address books, a nail clipper and comb, sock pockets, games as playing cards and checkers, mailing-size voice tapes, small vacuum-packed tins of nuts or candies, windproof cigarette lighters and pocket shoe polish kits.

Expert Explains Method Of Setting City Fire Rating

Fire insurance premiums in Granite City could be reduced if the community's overall insurance rating was lowered from its current six-point rating to five, Warren Little, a public relations engineer for the Illinois Inspection and Rating Bureau, told Granite City Optimists Tuesday afternoon.

More firemen and updating their training program, augmenting the department's water pumping capacity and installation of a city-wide fire alarm system are among improvements he described as essential to achieve a better rating and lower insurance costs in Granite City.

Pointing out that numerous elements are studied and evaluated in determining a community's fire insurance rating, Little said that thorough investigations are conducted into the city's water supply, fire department operations, alarm systems and fire prevention measures.

These points are considered, together with local building codes and general structural conditions in the community, the engineer disclosed. Inspection and enforcement of the building code plays a vital part in achieving a "good" rating, he added.

Rating classifications are based on a one through ten scale, with ten being the poorest rating, Little said.

The Inspection and Rating Bureau is a private agency financed by Illinois insurance companies, the speaker explained, noting the agency has full responsibility for setting fire insurance ratings, thereby determining costs, in all communities within the state.

He explained that a five-point rating level reduction in fire insurance premiums would result if Granite City's present rating was changed to the subsequent lower rating.

Little commented that local water supply for fire purposes generally is good. However, he pointed out that Granite City fire hydrants are spaced farther apart than the optimum distance.

There is a deficiency in manpower, the engineer said, adding that present training programs for Granite City firemen are considered inadequate. He said pumping capacity of the department is approximately ten-per-cent short of optimum figures.

Absence of a community fire alarm system adds to the poorer rating, Little reported, noting that response to fires is totally dependent on requests for aid via public telephone.

Conditions of fire stations, age and amount of equipment and maintenance enter into the rating evaluation procedure, the engineer said, citing that conditions at the Nameoki fire station are in need of improvement.

Only 16% of all downtown structures in Granite City are fire resistant, Little reported, with 79% having masonry walls and 5% wood-frame exteriors.

He indicated the existence of fire-fighting equipment at the Granite City Army Depot and the community's close proximity to Madison, Venice and East St. Louis, should assistance be required in event of a major conflagration, is taken into consideration in the rating report.

The speaker was introduced by James Case, manager of the Bureau's Belleville office, who was presented to club members by Henry D. Karandziej, program chairman.

Other guests at the luncheon meeting in the YMCA, included Rev. Oscar Mayes of Hillsboro, a guest of Rev. James R. Craddock; Ralph A. Morris II, president of the Granite City Board of Realtors, and Thomas Kiehl, president of the Tri-Cities Independent Insurance Agents Association.

Dr. Raymond E. Troyer, Optometrist, presided at a brief business session and announced the appointment of Louis Paschoff as the new attendance chairman.

Members were reminded of a "Ladies' Night" program, set for Nov. 2, at the Granite City Army Depot Officers' Open Mess. Reservations are now being accepted, Dr. Troyer said.

Services at Troy for Mrs. Georgia Schwehr

Funeral services were held Saturday at Troy, Ill., for Mrs. Georgia M. Schwehr, 75, of Denver, Colo., a former 30-year resident of Granite City, who died last week at Swedish Hospital in Denver. She had been ill several years and was hospitalized 11 days.

A Madison county school teacher from 1911 to 1921, Mrs. Schwehr was born in Pin Oak township, Ill. She had resided in Troy before moving to Granite City in 1920. She and her husband, Joseph F. Schwehr, who survives, were married in St. Louis on Dec. 29, 1920, and remained in the local community until moving to Denver in 1959.

Mrs. Schwehr was a charter member of the Third Baptist Church in Granite City and a 62-year member of the Troy Baptist Church. While residing in Denver, she attended the East-Side Baptist Church.

Besides her husband, also surviving are a daughter Mrs. Paul (Muriel) Sparks of Colorado; three brothers, Clarence and Lawrence Anderson, both of Troy, and Robert Anderson of Somerset, Ky.; one sister, Mrs. Sally Bussong of Troy; and three grandchildren.

More Apartments Given Approval in Arlington Heights

Approval was granted on a request to construct another apartment house project in the Arlington Heights subdivision of Nameoki township by the Madison county board of supervisors.

Objecting residents of the high-cost residential district were generally guaranteed that it would be the final apartment complex to be constructed in the area.

The county board of appeals had recommended that the petition of James and Shirley Green to rezone four to five lots in the subdivision from R-3 one-family to R-5 multiple-family residence district be granted, providing that no precedent would be established for apartments in the area.

It was pointed out that the tract was the only remaining vacant land in the planned subdivision. Jack Clifford, county zoning official, told the board that any attempt to expand the situation would necessitate a master development plan.

Absolute Guarantee? Several county board members interpreted this to be a method for future multiple housing and commercial developments in adjacent areas and provided no absolute guarantee.

But explanations by Harry Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor, and Clifford were accepted by Joseph Schall, acting as spokesman for the Arlington Heights Home Owners Association. He complained that more apartments would over-populate a small area composed of homes ranging in the $27,000 to $60,000 class, would demand additional police and fire protection, would develop absentee landlords seeking a maximum profit with a minimum of maintenance and would lead to transient residents not interested in the community.

The county board also granted five other requests to rezone tracts or for special use permits and denied one in this area.

Other Approvals Granted were petitions of: Raymond Foret, purchaser, to rezone a tract from R-3 one-family residence district to B-3 highway business district at Route 162 and Lake drive for a confectionery-variety store, with permission to reside on the premises.

Joseph A. Marcus, purchaser, to rezone a tract from R-3 to B-3 district to construct a Gem store at Routes 111 and 40 near Cahokia Mounds state park.

Ruby M. Barker, owner, to rezone a tract in Nameoki township from agricultural to M-2 general manufacturing district in Nameoki township and a special use permit for another tract for a private recreational area.

Local Explains Refusal Clifton Patterson, financial secretary, Chemical Workers Local 50, told the Press-Record last week that a Granite City Steel Co. blast furnace division employee was refused membership April 27 to avoid setting a precedent for joining after 30 days. He later joined the union upon being rehired. An NLRB examiner in ordering pay for time lost ruled last week that the man's first day of work, which spanned midnight, officially was March 26 rather than March 27 and that an 11:30 offer to join could have been accepted.

Disgraced Death Toll Fijan described the loss of 50,000 lives yearly as a "national disgrace." "As fast as you can say $15-00, once a second, is the rate at which traffic property damage is occurring. The total of $9 billion a year would be enough to rebuild all our schools, colleges and libraries and many more besides."

Fijan noted that motorists under 25 years of age do 20% of all driving and are involved in 23% of all accidents, adding that this segment of the population is the fastest growing.

Car Insurance Problems -- Inflation, More Accidents

The 1.6 million persons killed during the present century in highway accidents exposed combined tolls of wars, fires, floods, earthquakes and mine and ship disasters, according to information outlined by Harry Thebeau and Frank Fijan, operators of insurance agencies in Madison.

In detailing problems confronting the insurance industry today, both Thebeau and Fijan agreed that the primary means of stabilizing auto insurance rates is a substantial reduction in accident rates. Both said that established auto casualty firms welcome governmental investigations aimed at eliminating unsafe practices.

Citing an industry-wide auto liability insurance underwriting loss of $1.6 billion in the past decade, they said higher rates have been made necessary by "the upward spiral in traffic accident injuries, auto thefts, hospital and medicine costs and auto parts and labor repair costs."

Despite the financial squeeze, which has forced some insurance firms to depend on investment proceeds to remain in business, the industry has "compiled a proud record of accomplishment and a service and is meeting an unparalleled need," the said.

No Control Over Factors "Insurers have no control over soaring prices and statistics but are affected by them in paying claims and settling cases," Thebeau commented.

"To stabilize auto insurance rates, we must cut the accident rate. Each motorist should regularly re-examine his driving habits, and keep in mind that it is the behavior behind the wheel of our cars that largely determines what we will pay for auto insurance."

Volunteers are Needed For TB Seal Campaign

The Madison County Tuberculosis Association today called for volunteers to help with the 1967 Christmas seal campaign. The campaign starts Nov. 14, but before that date letters must be prepared for mailing to 63,000 families throughout the county. "Unfortunately, tuberculosis is still a real threat to the health of all citizens of the county," Mrs. William Barth, the association's executive secretary, said.

"We've seen new cases of tuberculosis have been reported in our county since the first of this year. We must continue our efforts to wipe out TB and to control other respiratory diseases. The funds in our Christmas seal campaign help do just that, but we need volunteers to help get the campaigning off the ground."

"Volunteers who assist in the Christmas seal campaign are giving the citizens of our county a very important Christmas gift, the promise of better health for themselves and for their families," Mrs. Barth said.

Individuals and organized groups interested in offering their services may call TB headquarters, 254-8025, and arrange suitable time schedules for working. TB headquarters, located 7 South Wood River avenue, Wood River, can accommodate up to ten persons at a time.

A. O. Smith Earnings Up for 3 Quarters

A. O. Smith Corp. earnings for the first nine months of 1967 rose to $5,763,000, or $2.43 a share, on sales of $243,345,000, compared with profits of $5,338,000, or $2.34 a share, and sales of $237,507,000 a year earlier, was reported today at Milwaukee.

Third quarter profits, reflecting the normal seasonal pattern of A. O. Smith's business, were $1,480,000, or 62 cents a share, on sales of $74,744,000. Earnings were $1,434,000, or 61 cents a share, and sales were $69,565,000 for the same period.

The company's performance in the third quarter was influenced by the changeover to production of 1968 model automobile frames," said L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer. "No unusual problems were encountered during this changeover. Production began earlier than anticipated, enabling our Automotive division to achieve high third quarter volume."

One of the bills would permit registration of these vehicles as passenger cars rather than as trucks, and the other would exempt them from the annual inspection required for trucks. They would continue to be subject to other truck restrictions, such as speed limit and equipment.

Both Secretary Powell and Senator Carroll expressed the opinion that since house cars and private living coaches are not used for commercial purposes, but rather for recreational purposes as passenger vehicles, treating them as trucks places an undue hardship on owners with respect to license fees and operation.

Seek to Ease Rules on House Cars, Coaches

Two bills designed to ease recently enacted restrictions on registration and operation of private living coaches and house cars have been introduced in the Illinois Senate at Springfield under sponsorship of Senator John W. Carroll of Park Ridge.

Drafting of the measures followed conferences between Senator Carroll and Secretary of State Paul Powell who favors relaxing present regulations.

History of Dolls Told by Expert

"Dolls tell the story of mankind," Mrs. Maude Trovillian of Elmhurst told the Friends of the Madison County Historical Museum at a regular meeting held at the Museum in Edwardsville Thursday.

Mrs. Trovillian has a museum of both antique and modern dolls at her home in an old stone house furnished in keeping with its period. She has been collecting dolls for a number of years and has had them on display for two years. The number is unknown, but there are 1500 in one room alone. The oldest dates back to 1620.

A number of dolls from the collection was taken to the meeting. They include wood, wax, china and many others. China dolls did not come into this part of the world until the 18th century, when China opened her doors to world trade, she explained. An interesting sidelight told by Mrs. Trovillian was the fact that in times past parents of deceased children would commission doll makers to create representations of their children in tribute to them.

The speaker also told of the growing popularity of doll collecting as a hobby, and the rapidly increasing value of dolls, citing as an example a doll now valued at $300 dollars which bears the original price mark of 65 cents. Many of the dolls which she brought a few years ago now have a market value much greater.

A business meeting preceded the talk, during which Mrs. Louise Ahrens, assistant superintendent of the Museum, made a report. So far this year, according to the report, 5883 persons have visited the Museum. The attendance has been increased by the library where 96 have done research. Forty-seven have consulted it for correspondence so far in 1967.

Coterie Plans For Campus Day
The Ladies Coterie met Thursday afternoon at First United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. G. E. Filcott was hostess to the group. A dessert course was served to 22 members.

Mrs. Evan Griffith presided over the meeting, and an announcement was made of Federation Campus Day Oct. 28 at Southern Illinois University. Southwestern campus, which a number of members are planning to attend. Also announced was a trip to St. Louis, Mo. to show to take the place of the regular meeting Nov. 2. A bus will leave the church at 10 a.m. for any who are to make the trip.

A letter of resignation was read from Mrs. Rex Niles, a former club member and officer, who is now living in Lincoln, Neb., and the remainder of the afternoon was spent working on layettes for the Salvation Army Home for Girls in St. Louis under the direction of Mrs. Leonard Davis, Mrs. Bernard Miller Jr. and Mrs. E. F. Reiske.

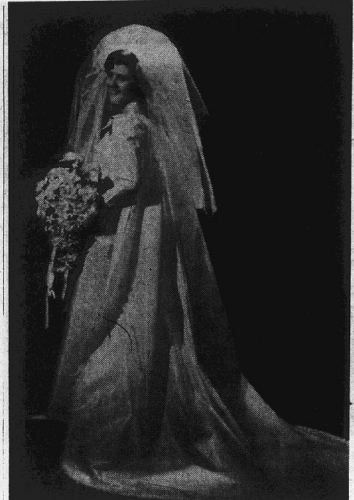

District Meeting For Secretaries
Two members of the Tri-Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association, attending the five-state Great Lakes District Conference in Detroit, Mich., over the weekend were Mrs. Joy Ausuberg, a secretary at A. O. Smith Corp. who served as a delegate, and Mrs. Charles Vunovic, a secretary at General Steel Industries Inc., a member of the International Home Service committee.

Mrs. Vunovic was one of the group leaders for a forum Saturday afternoon entitled "The Look of A Leader."

At the International Committee meeting last July, the by-laws of the Association were changed to permit male secretaries to join the National Secretaries Association, and it was announced that the first man has now been accepted into membership through the Birmingham Chapter in New York.

Other highlights of the conference include exhibits and reference displays, guest speakers, a cocktail party, a banquet, church services, forums and entertainment.

Third Straight League Shutout for GC a 34-0 Defeat by Flyers

Some football teams win statistical battles of yardage or first downs or possession but then lose the "war." GC's Warriors had no such luck here Friday night, losing nearly every skirmish as well as the game itself, 34-0 to East St. Louis.

Shut out by a Southwestern Conference opponent for the third straight week, Granite City did have the consolation of retaining a chance for victory until the final period. The deficit was only 7-0 at halftime and 14-0 after the third quarter.

Only in the closing minutes of the game did the visiting Flyers, themselves winless in league play until Friday, manage to run up the score.

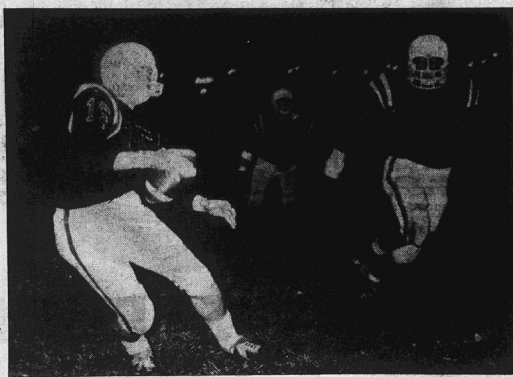

The Flyers earned 15 first downs to the Warriors' six and rolled up 355 yards rushing and 67 yards passing to GC's 29 yards on the ground and 63 yards in the air.

East St. Louis completed four of nine passes and Granite City four of 12, one of the Warrior aerials being intercepted. The Flyers averaged 33 yards in three punts to the Warriors' 32.5-yard average on eight punts.

GC's recovered two enemy fumbles and was penalized 35 yards to the Flyers' 60 yards.

Most serious scoring threat by Granite City came in the final quarter when an advance led by the running of Dave Snelson brought the ball to the Flyer 22. When the Warriors ran out of downs there it set the stage for the final TD.

The only score of the first half came in the first half when Halback Tom Wigginton went over on a five-yard run for the first of his three touchdowns.

EAST ST LOUIS OF OLD confronted the Warriors in Friday night's Southwestern Conference gridiron clash as the Flyers rebounded from three earlier defeats to win 34-0. Roger Belshe (15) of GC's is shown preparing to pass. Other Warriors visible are Frank Mehelic (64) and Mark Rigsby (68).

In the third quarter, he carried the ball 74 yards for a touchdown.

Quarterback James Harrington scored on a one-yard gain early in the fourth period, with Demetrious Goodrich—top Flyer ground-gainer in the game along with Wigginton—later scoring from four yards out.

Only one second remained in the game when Wigginton after a long gain by Goodrich, ran through the tackle position and 50 yards for a touchdown. Gary Rohr kicked all four extra points.

The meager Warrior running attack was led by Snelson,

Belshe connected on three of ten passes and Snelson on one of two passes. Pekarik caught two for a total of 27 yards. Roger Laws snared one for 33 yards and Jim McCort caught a three-yard pass.

Russ Borth and Ron Laws divided punting duties for GC's.

QUARTERBACK VERSATILITY is shown by Roger Belshe (15), 166-pound Warrior junior, who combined signal calling and passing with running. Granite City players attempting to aid him are Dennis Garver (60) and Mike Pekarik (42). Halftime score was 7-0 but the visitors then added four more TD's.

Warriors Jerry Monahan and Ron Laws each recovered an East St. Louis fumble.

Flyer Coach Fred Cameron attributed the victory to team play.

Partly due to numerous injuries and partly to give young players more experience, Warrior Coach Jim Morrison

Prather Rally Falls Short in 19-13 Game

Webster scored 13 points in the first quarter and six points in the second period.

Prather was 30 yards from the goal with four seconds remaining but time ran out before it could tie the score.

In the varsity race, Mike Burris, Richard Hull, Gary Oxford, Mike Webster, Tom Nibaur, Alex Tarpoff and Ronny McDow finished in a closely-knit pack from 17th to 43rd. There were 49 boys in the event.

In the sophomore race, the Warriors finished third in the conference with 54 points. Steve Harris ran third, Ricky Rose eighth, Ralph Rojas tenth, Dave Burris 16th and Mike Alton 17th. Harris, Rose and Rojas each won medals.

Explosive Cahokia Offense Offsets Strong Trojan Rally, 27-13

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Mon., Oct. 23, 1967 Page 7

"Explosives! Handle with care!" should have been inscribed on the backs of the Cahokia Comanches as they let out a war cry at the start of the game and went on to scalp the Madison high school football Trojans 27-13 at the Madison field Friday night.

Coach Harland Schiebel said, "They exploded on us like we did to Mater Dei last week. We couldn't contain them and they gained a lot of long yardage on us."

More than 800 Trojan fans saw their team go down to defeat for the first time this year after five victories. But they also saw a substantial difference in size and experience.

"We decided before the game ever started that, if we wanted to be in the game at all, we would have to control the football. But we failed to do so for the first part of the game."

Frustrating Fumble
"We came close to their goal in the second quarter, but fumbling on their two-yard line really hurt. The score at the half showed we had 14-7, instead of 14-0."

The Trojans matched Cahokia in points during the second half but were unable to offset their slow start.

The passing game that Trojan fans had seen function so well in the last few weeks was stymied. The Madison quarterback tossed 17 times but could complete only two for a total of 26 yards.

The Comanche quarterback threw the ball 11 times and completed six for 125 yards.

When the Trojans elected to stay on the ground, a Comanche always was close enough to prevent any long runs.

Long Runback by Williams
The only time the Trojans got long yardage was in the third quarter, when Dan Williams ran back a kickoff for 82 yards to the Cahokia 12-yard line, setting up a touchdown play three plays later when Quarterback Jim Scott ran around right end for a six-yard gain. The extra point was kicked by Harold James.

The Comanche defense held the Trojans to 192 net yards while the Cahokia offense got 330 yards on the ground and 128 in the air.

Coach Schiebel concluded that "they hurt us with their speed," and it was especially true in the first quarter, when Cahokia scored twice in the first six minutes of play.

Cahokia kicked off to Madison and the Trojans received the ball deep in their own territory, running it back for a "first and ten" on their own 15-yard line.

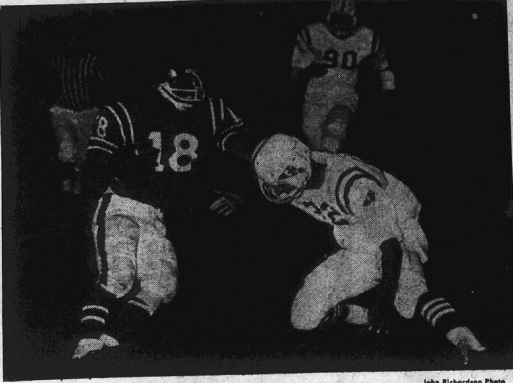

The first play went smoothly as Bill Campbell picked up eight yards. But on the second play of the game, the Trojans fumbled and the Comanches recovered the ball.

Bailey Breaks Scoring Tie
Dynamic Halfback Skip Bailey gave a hint of the speed that he would display for the rest of the game as he gained 19 yards on four carries and crossed the goal on a three-yard touchdown run off right-tackle.

The extra point was kicked by Mike Darnell for a 7-0 score with only a minute and 25 seconds of the quarter gone.

Cahokia again kicked off to Madison and this time Madison was able to earn one first down as Fullback Titus Shipp carried the ball to the Madison 28. But the Comanches held the Trojans there for the next three downs, forcing a punt to the Cahokia 37.

Speed Again Declines
The Comanche war drum sounded and the tribe reacted on the first play, sending McGuire down the middle for a 6-yard TD run, topped off with an extra point by Darnell for a 21-0 advantage.

The Comanches again put on their war paint and went after the Trojans, kicking off and holding them deep in their own territory for three downs.

After a punt to the Cahokia 29, the Comanches employed Bailey for a three-yard gain and then Halfback Jim Williams carried for a first down on the Cahokia 42.

McGuire failed to pick up any yardage on the first down. On second down, the ball was pitched back to Bailey, who ran around the right end and 58 yards for the last Comanche score of the night.

The Trojans finally began to come to life as Dan Williams returned the kickoff almost the length of the field, setting up the TD by Scott and a 27-7 score, Harold James kicking the point after touchdown.

On-Side Kick Successful
When it was the Trojans turn to kick off, they kicked "on-side" and bounced the ball off a front-line Comanche. Ted Narvaez recovered the ball for the Trojans on the Cahokia 47.

Madison continued to roll for the rest of the quarter, penetrating to the three-yard line. On the first play of the fourth quarter, the Trojans struck their last big blow, Shipp crossing the goal line on a three-yard dive. The extra point kick was wide.

Quarterback John Walker to End Charles Robinson. The extra point was kicked by Darnell.

There was no other scoring in the first half but the Trojans threatened late in the second quarter as they got the ball to the Cahokia two before fumbling.

Cahokia earned two first downs as Bailey carried the ball five times, moving the ball to the Madison 21.

As the horn sounded, a pass was thrown to Robinson, who was tackled on the Madison 13 after scampering for 15 yards. In the locker room during the halftime intermission, the necessity of holding Cahokia running backs to less yardage was stressed. Even Fullback Mike McGuire, an 185-pounder, had displayed blazing speed.

When the second half opened, the Trojans kicked off to the Comanche 14-yard line, with the ball being run back to the Cahokia 37.

Coolidge Assures Title Tie With 40-6 Victory
Undefeated Coolidge junior high school rallied down at least a tie for the junior high conference title with a 40-6 win Thursday at Roxana, which also was beaten in league play. Coolidge will have a chance to gain the undisputed championship when it plays host to neighboring Frather junior high school for a game at 7 p.m. Thursday.

In winning its fifth game of the season and its fourth conference contest, Coolidge tied 6-6 in the first period on a 55-yard run around right end by Ned Tapp and then rucked up 20 points in the second quarter on TDs by Jeff Jackson, 25-yard reverse play; Dennis Kuneman, nine-yard off-tackle run and Donnie Harris, quarterback sneak.

The Braves scored two more touchdowns in the third period on a four-yard dive by Tom Mitchell and a 15-yard run by Jackson. Joe Wallace kicked a total of four extra points in the game.

How To Be A Preferred Borrower At The Bank

By ALLEN JESSEE

Exec. Vice President - Granite City Trust and Savings Bank

It is true that I am a banker, and therefore might be prejudiced about the value of banks. Nevertheless, stay with me as I get into a banking subject. You just can't speak of money for very long before coming to the subject, because understanding of his bank and banker is a vital part of everyone's personal financial success.

For instance, have you ever considered the advantages of becoming a preferred borrower at the bank? In our credit economy, I think there is no other single advantage that can mean so much to your personal economics.

How do you become such a preferred borrower? There are four basic rules, each demanding, but simple.

One, you must have steady employment with an established firm. Or you must be a professional man, or have your own business.

Two, you should have your checking account at the bank and maintain a reasonable average balance. This means that you do not have an "elevator" account, which zooms skyward on payday, and plummets to practically nothing before the next payday.

Three, you never write checks against a deposit you won't make until a few days later. Those who do so inevitably get caught out in the cold on the embarrassing day when the deposit unexpectedly cannot be made. That hurts your banking reputation.

Four, you are always right on time with loan payments, and have borrowed enough to establish your reputation for this quality. If you have ever had to be late, you have notified the bank ahead of time.

The banking philosophy behind the preferred borrower was best stated by the grandfather of American banking, J. Pierpont Morgan. When asked by a congressional committee on what basis he was willing to lend money most readily, he made this famous reply: "Gentlemen," he said, "I extend credit on character first, before property or anything else. A man I do not trust would not get money from me on all the bonds in Christendom."

For years, banks have given special consideration to those who have proved their reliability. Why not talk to one of our people about it?

For financial assistance and banking services, you are invited to consult with Mr. Loman or any of the other officers at Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, 1909 Edison Avenue.

BRIGHT PARK OUTLOOK

To the Editor:

It was my good fortune to attend the second annual dinner of Prides, Inc., held at Alton. It was a real inspiration as we saw and listened to the plans for beautification of the area as outlined by the very able president of Prides, Dr. Gordon Moore, and master-of-ceremonies, Henry McAdams.

The speaker for the occasion, Irving Dillard, was a wise selection. His varied experiences as a world traveler, former newspaper editor and captain in the world war II armed forces and his present service as a professor at Princeton University place his ability as a speaker with the highly preferred.

I became especially interested during Mr. Dillard's speech as he touched upon the subject of the great need to recognize and properly commemorate the history of the state of Illinois relative to the development of the Lewis and Clark Memorial Park.

Mr. Dillard, along with the late Dr. Howard Trowell, pioneered in bringing about this historic endeavor at the confluence of the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers.

The writer, as a member of Governor Kerner's Illinois Lewis and Clark Trail Committee, has great faith in the leadership of this committee—Clarence Decker, state chairman, and William T. Lodge, vice chairman. Under their guidance, the people of Illinois will soon visualize a large Lewis and Clark Memorial Park at the confluence of these two world-famous rivers.

State Vote on Pollution Control

(Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development)

A campaign is being organized to inform Illinois voters of the need for a statewide program of pollution control and water resources development and management.

Governor Otto Kerner signalled the start of the promotion drive when he approved legislation authorizing a referendum on a $1 billion bond issue to finance the comprehensive program.

He signed the measure at a ceremony attended by representatives of civic organizations active in the subject areas covered by the proposed program.

Adding momentum to the task of forming the campaign was the appointment of a citizens committee chairman.

Rutherford Chairman, William L. Rutherford, Administrative vice-president of the Forest Park Foundation of Peoria, was chosen to head a citizens committee that will seek to enlist support for the program of air and water pollution control, recreation development, flood control, water supply and water management.

A lawyer by profession, Rutherford has directed a land acquisition program for the foundation that has resulted in nearly 12,000 acres of open space being made available in the three-county Peoria metropolitan area.

Rutherford, 52, is chairman of the Illinois State Council on Aging and a member of the Illinois Board of Vocational Education and Rehabilitation and other local and civic groups. He is the co-founder of both a rehabilitation institute and a center for arts and sciences in Peoria.

November 1968 Vote

The bond issue question will be put to a vote at the Nov. 5, 1968, general election in Illinois.

Approval of the referendum will require that the number of persons voting in favor of the bond issue must constitute a majority of the number of persons voting for candidates for the General Assembly.

School Dropout Rate Being Reduced, Further Decrease Will Be Necessary

More than ever, the U. S. needs trained, educated people to carry on the progress and to take responsible places in society. For this reason, increasing attention is being given to the two million aged 16-21 who dropped out of school before earning high school diplomas; nearly a fourth of them are out of work and most of the rest have jobs with limited futures.

Gains are being made, nationally and locally. The dropout rate fell from 19% in 1960 to 18% in 1966; two million more are in high school and college than the population increase of the last three years accounts for. Programs are underway in all three Quad-City school districts to enable people to obtain equivalent eighth grade and twelfth grade education and to acquire a wide variety of other skills.

But 18% is too high a level to accept in this period of "knowledge explosion" and technological breakthrough. At the current rate of school leavers, by 1975 there would be 32 million adults in the labor force without high school training—without sufficient qualifications for most of the jobs available then.

The support and effort of all citizens will be needed to reduce the number of future victims of ignorance, deprivation and poverty.

Youngsters who have already dropped out of school need to be counseled and guided into training enabling them to develop skills for the work currently available. For those on the verge of leaving school to earn money to support their families, the need is even more urgent. Action by businesses in the form of part-time jobs is valuable.

Each citizen can help serve his country by helping to insure that tomorrow's workers and leaders are educated today.

Education Seen As Year-Round, Lifelong Process for All Ages

(Last of seven reports by the U. S. Office of Education on education in America — past, present and future.)

The increasing use of technology in schools will call upon educators to answer many questions at present left unexamined or inadequately answered.

What is the nature of the learning process? How, precisely, does one human teach another? What functions can a machine perform better than a human?

How do we organize schools and classrooms to make it possible for every student to learn at his own pace?

More basically, we may even question the notion of the school as a physical place.

Do we need buildings devoted to education alone, or can a student learn as well in his own home, provided he has the proper learning equipment?

Every nation has used its schools mainly to transmit the heritage of the past.

Such a process is valid and useful when the pace of change between generations and centuries is slow.

Learn at Individual Pace

But it must be questioned in our time, when the information that a student acquires in undergraduate physics may be obsolete by the time he finishes his master's degree . . . or when the skills of a vocational student trained for in 1980 no longer exist in 1985.

From certain points of view, our world has changed much more since 1940 than it did from the time of Caesar to that of Napoleon.

To fit his students for useful life in a world neither of them can adequately envision, the educator—in cooperation with a host of specialists of every description—must produce reasonably accurate "maps" of a country he has never seen and may never inhabit.

The result of his groping for the shape of tomorrow may look something like the school program described in the accompanying article, "1997."

Johnny Brooke, eight years old, is a student in Iowa Public Education Center 417. To his parents' consternation, he has "skipped" his "classes" at Center 417 apparently consist of only him.

The pupils frequently do gather in groups, for seminars-like discussions; for visits to museums, the zoo, the symphony, the supermarket, the municipal stadium for physical education; for public speaking; for meetings of the Junior Astronauts Club Johnny belongs to; and for a variety of other activities.

And rehearsals of his choral group seem to be conducted in much the same way as the school classrooms his grandmother described to him from her girlhood in Harlem—except that she attended school only with other Negro pupils.

But for the most part the children meet with their teachers individually.

In addition to the "regular" teachers, there are some rather unusual people on the instructional staff. Johnny's favorites last year were a concert violinist and a furniture designer, and this year is a retired sea captain.

Johnny knows where Brazil is and what Sao Paulo looks like because he signalled his learning console to project films that would show him. But it was the sea captain, the retired sea captain that moved Johnny to ask the console about Brazil in the first place.

The learning console at which Johnny spends much of his time is a console that appears to be an enclosed desk with a television set and a typewriter built into it.

He starts his lesson by inserting his aluminum identification plate into the console demand-slot. Within a few seconds, the screen projects a problem in mathematics.

Johnny reads the problem and the screen at the end of yesterday's lesson. He picks up his electronic stylus and writes the answer on his response slip; this resembles an

Current UF Drive Hinges on All Giving—and on All Giving Enough

Industrial employees and others have given the current United Fund drive a big boost with their contributions, but the overall campaign total is lagging behind the pace of a year ago and the progress that had been projected for this year.

The meaning is clear. In order for the campaign to be successful, every potential contributor to Quad-City residents, employees, firms and organizations will need to make a pledge.

And everyone will need to give, not just a token amount, but his fair share. Backing at least 6% greater than last year is essential.

Much that is important to every local individual and family depends on a healthy, functioning United Fund. When the UF treasury is starved for funds, cutbacks in services and staffing become necessary in numerous agencies that work directly to improve life in this community.

Not only the penniless and aged and ill and underprivileged and helpless are affected. There are direct services to virtually every Quad-City.

Even if there might be one or two people who somehow avoid contact with any of the 20 agencies throughout the 12 months, they need to be paid to provide support for UF programs. "No man is an island" — what conditions are like for the other 75,000 here has a big impact on each of us every day of the year.

The United Fund deserves top priority. None can rest until 100%—$384,000—has been raised.

Clarify Federal Budgeting Process

Clearer federal budgeting, as recommended by a commission last week, is long overdue and should be incorporated into the yearly proposals which President Johnson will submit to Congress in January.

Three somewhat contradictory budgets are currently used—administrative, consolidated cash and institutional income accounts. Net result is a lack of understandable and complete information for the public regarding how much is being spent on what.

If the federal government should comprehensively report income and outgo in all funds, including highways and Social Security, and utilize an accrual basis—when payments are due rather than when they are made, in money, financial "mystery" can be curtailed and a sharper spotlight focused on actions and proposals affecting the pocketbook of every American.

Brighter Business District Lighting

The decision to install downtown Granite City lights twice as bright as the present street lighting is a sound move. Communities carrying out such improvements have found them well worth the cost. They increase safety and attractiveness, and this has been borne out by the new lighting along Nameoki road.

Education Seen As Year-Round, Lifelong Process for All Ages

old-fashioned square of blackboard except that it has several hundred thousand tiny pores that receive impulses from the stylus and translate handwriting to machine language.

A voice from the speaker in the console congratulates Johnny on getting the answer. "Now try this one" as the screen projects a new problem.

If he gets a wrong answer, the screen projects the same kind of problem a different way; if Johnny gets three wrong in a row, a soft tone rings in Betty Raschke's lapel alarm and brings her into his console.

Dr. Raschke, the concert monitor, isn't the only person keeping tabs on Johnny's progress. His console and concentrator like all the other consoles around the Davisopolis area, more numerous than neighborhood firehoses, are connected to the Educational Resource Center downtown.

There, the record of Johnny's progress that has been tabulated by computers is combed by a team of psychologists, programmers, expert teachers of everything from arithmetic to zoology, remedial specialists, and guidance counselors.

Neither Johnny nor anyone else knows what grade he's in. As quickly as he masters one "learning unit," his programmed courses offer more difficult material.

He proceeds at his own pace, neither holding back other students on subjects he finds difficult nor being slowed down by them on subjects in which he excels.

Johnny rises to his feet each morning with his sister, Fran, who is 19 and hopes to be a surgeon. She takes her course work in the morning, on a console one floor above as she goes to a medical center in the afternoon for laboratory work.

The Brooke family has two learning consoles at home.

Fran uses hers in the evening to ask the Educational Resource Center for help on her calculus or literature research papers.

When her father is in an ambitious mood, he picks up the program guide and dials either Elementary Japanese Conversation or Advanced Economics. He hasn't yet decided whether to accept a promotion that would require moving to his firm's Kyoto branch, but if he does, he'll be ready.

Mrs. Brooke has decided, and three afternoons a week she dials Oriental Cuisine and watches it on her kitchen extension screen.

In Johnny's world, education never stops; learning is a year-round, life-long process.

Moon a Meteor? Theory Shattered By Finding of Basaltic Rock There

(American Chemical Society)

In past years, there was no better way to start an argument among scientists than to mention the moon; at scientific meetings, in seminars, on home phones, and in "army" laboratories, they've argued, often bitterly, about the origin of the moon.

There were three possible conclusions: (1) the moon is a chunk of the earth, probably formed by the basin that formed the Pacific Ocean, away by some cataclysmic event; (2) the moon is a primitive body from outer space, captured by the earth's gravitational field; or (3) the moon was formed by the same process that formed the earth. Each theory had its supporting facts and a solid basis of hope has now been shattered.

One way to ease the pressure of the argument was to answer one question: What is the chemical composition of the moon?

Is it like a piece of the earth? Is it totally different, perhaps similar to meteorites?

The composition of meteorites is believed to be primitive, meaning that they have not melted or changed the distribution of their chemical elements since the solar system was formed.

Some scientists, notably Nobel Laureate Harold Urey of the University of California at San Diego, had strong emotions favoring a primitive moon similar to meteorites.

If the moon is primitive, Dr. Urey and others argued, then it would be a perfect "uncut" specimen of the early earth at the very origins of our solar system, perhaps the only specimen that hope has now been shattered.

Advantages of 'Small City' Life

(Adams, N. Y., Jefferson County Journal)

Lady Bird Johnson's swing through the Upper Midwest served to dramatize, as was intended, one proposal that has been made for easing the problems that spring from urban congestion.

The nub of the idea is that by making small town life more attractive we might arrest or at least slow down the trend toward more and more concentration in the cities.

This notion did not originate with Mrs. Johnson—nor with Agriculture Secretary Freeman, who has been planning a sort of farm-oriented version of it.

For some years, various reflective men have been saying that it may not be desirable for our population to gravitate so markedly to urban centers.

It has long been suggested that, as transportation and communication improve, there is less and less reason for millions of people to huddle together in the cities.

One suggestion that people come to Adams and begin living with all the advantages. Between two cities, we are only a few minutes from good fishing, good hunting, good summer and winter sports.

Mrs. Johnson, because of her position, was able to focus wider attention on this concept. "There is no secret in this land," she said at one point in her swift tour, "that many of our cities are beset with problems that breed crime—bad housing, rats, pollution, congested traffic and street-side boredom, perhaps the most dangerous of all."

She declared that "re-energized small towns across the country may offer one of the important answers to the rising problem."

The trick will be to find ways to accomplish this "re-energizing."

How can people be motivated to choose life at the crossroads in preference to life in a crowded city?

Those who have lived or now live in smaller communities know that they offer advantages—a less frenzied pace, cleaner air, less noise, greater ease of movement, and so on. But sometimes economic and cultural opportunities are vital missing ingredients.

More attention should be given to this matter of how to bring about a renaissance of the small town.

Timing of Tax Return Processing

(Internal Revenue Service)

Q—Have paid my tax bill but I just got another bill for it anyway. What should I do?

A—Return the bill with the notation that you have already paid it. Give the date the payment was made and the amount it was sent to help identify your payment.

The computer system used for processing of tax returns operates on a sequential or step-by-step basis. Information can only be fed into the system at the beginning and not at any particular stage in the processing cycle.

In your case, this could mean that the data on your tax payment had not reached the stage where bills are issued before it was time for a reminder notice to be sent to you.

Disaster Losses

Q—What's the provision of the law that allows a deduction for losses suffered as a result of serious disorders?

A—Losses stemming from riots are handled under the same provisions as those provided tax relief for casualty and theft losses. If a personal property loss qualifies under these provisions, that part of the loss exceeding $100 may be deducted. Qualifying business property losses are deductible.

A casualty is defined as the complete or partial destruction of property resulting from an identifiable event of a sudden, unexpected nature. Losses resulting from hurricanes, tornadoes, floods, storms and fires as well as from civil disturbances qualify under this provision.

For more details, send a postcard to your IRS district director and ask for a copy of Document No. 5174, "Disasters, Casualties and Thefts."

Installation Estimates

Q—Where can I get a copy of an estimated tax declaration?

A—Send a postcard to your district director asking for a copy of Form 1040ES.

Little Lost Time On GC Steel's Expansion Jobs

Granite City Steel Co., recently completed one of the largest private construction programs in the history of the two-state area with virtually no lost time because of building trade union jurisdictional or other disputes. Lyle F. Guley, executive vice-president announced here Friday.

Approximately 1300 building trade workers, representing 15 different unions, were employed on the construction program at its peak. More than 4,000,000 man-hours were involved in the 2½ years of construction and, Guley said, the hours lost to jurisdictional disputes amounted to less than three thousandths of one per cent of the total worked.

Twenty-nine business agents and representatives of construction unions toured the new facilities Friday afternoon. This is the first outside group to tour Granite City Steel since the completion of the modernization and expansion program, which included building a new basic oxygen furnace plant, a giant computerized hot strip mill and a modern continuous galvanizing line.

"The extremely small amount of lost time on the construction program is an excellent example of how mutual understanding and cooperation between building trade unions and business can work for the benefit of both and for the entire St. Louis area," Guley said. "It is this type of progressive spirit that will help tremendously in attracting new business and industry and the new construction jobs that go with them," he said.

Guley is a member of the General Committee of the newly-formed Labor and Management Plan. The purpose of the LAMP organization is to improve the labor-management climate in the area.

Local Plant Worker Charged with Murder

Dale Milam, 34, of Collinsville, an employee at the blast furnace division of Granite City Steel Co., was charged with murder Friday in connection with the fatal shooting of a man after midnight Thursday at a tavern Milam operates in Collinsville.

The victim, Albert Stewart, 38, of Collinsville, was pronounced dead at St. Elizabeth Hospital here at 12:40 a.m. An inquest is to be set by Madison county deputy coroner Alvin Coase.

Milam was being held without bail at the St. Clair county jail at Belleville. The tavern, Dale's Town House, is located on the St. Clair side of the Madison county boundary line in Collinsville.

Milam worked the 3 to 11 shift at the blast furnace plant, and a disturbance occurred shortly after his arrival at the tavern at 12:10 a.m. Stewart, after being shot, fell in front of the bar and was lying in a pool of blood when the ambulance arrived. There were conflicting reports as to the cause of the disturbance.

Stewart, who was employed by the State Pest Control Co. of Collinsville, was shot just above the heart by a .38 caliber snub-nose revolver.

His widow, Mrs. Jo Ann Stewart, told deputy coroner Coase that she, her husband and another couple had been at the Steak House tavern in State Park place from about 4 p.m. Thursday and had arrived at Milam's establishment about an hour before the shooting occurred.

The victim was transferred to a funeral home in Mt. Vernon.

Two Delegates Return From NARC Convention

Mrs. Ivan Reliske, vice-president, and Mrs. Evelyn Gavin, executive director, of the Granite City Association for Retarded, were among the 1000 delegates attending the 16th annual convention of the National Association for Retarded Children which ended Saturday at Portland, Ore.

A voluntary organization of 120,000 members devoted to the welfare of the mentally retarded of all ages, the NARC began its convention with a banquet Wednesday at which John W. Macy Jr., chairman of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, was the main speaker.

Other speakers at the three-day session included Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League; Hubert H. Humphrey, wife of the vice-president; and members of the President's Committee on Mental Retardation.

Macy, who received the NARC Distinguished Service Award at Wednesday night's banquet, cited retarded workers for their good employment records. Discussing the difficulties of placing the retarded in jobs, the U. S. Civil Service chairman said that 3562 have been placed in federal agencies.

In hiring the retarded, Macy explained that a special authority was established as a substitute for civil service examinations required for government positions. This permits retarded persons to be hired on the basis of their ability to perform the duties, he said.

Third Quarter Report

New Equipment Break-In Cuts GC Steel Net Income

Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman and president of Granite City Steel Co., announced today that breaking in costs adversely affected third quarter net income which amounted to $881,000, or 20 cents per share of common stock, compared with $2,611,000, or 60 cents per share, in the same three months of 1966.

Veeder said that the third quarter this year "saw real gains as far as Granite City Steel's longer-term prospects are concerned. We completed a tremendous three-year program of expansion and modernization within budget and set very reasonable cost in view of the facilities obtained and the consequent improvement in our cost position."

"We also carried out a long-term plan to eliminate a geographic price differential on our products once we reached this position. Customer reaction has been encouraging and we expect more benefits than ever from our central location and the growth potential in our natural market area once the demand for steel improves."

Shipments Down
Granite City Steel shipped 230,000 tons of plate, hot and cold rolled sheet and other flat rolled steel products from its plant in the third quarter of 1967 and had net sales of $54,433,000 compared with shipments of 265,000 tons and sales of $42,030,000 in the third quarter of last year when the demand for steel was stronger.

Ingot production in the third quarter of 1967 was 262,000 tons compared with 335,000 tons in the third quarter of 1966.

"Third quarter 1967 costs were higher as a result of low volume combined with interruptions to the normal, efficient flow of materials," Veeder said.

"The breaking in of our basic oxygen furnace plant and 80-inch computerized hot strip mill contributed to increased costs during the quarter."

"As compared with the same period in 1966, earnings in the third quarter this year also had to absorb higher costs resulting from an Aug. 1 increase in wage rates and benefits, substantially higher net interest costs and increases in the prices of raw materials and services."

Nine-Month Income
Granite City Steel's third quarter results put net income for the first nine months of 1967 at $4,317,000, or $1.04 per share of common stock, compared with $7,194,000, or $1.65 per share in the same period last year.

Net sales for the first nine months of 1967 were $165,648,000 compared with $122,238,000 in the same period last year. The company produced 874,000 tons of ingot steel and shipped 714,000 tons.

Report to School Board
Owen Humphrey, curriculum coordinator, and William R. Brankhoff, acting director of the gifted student program, will give a verbal report to the Granite City school board during its meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, reviewing "continuous progress" instruction.

More About Control of
Ordinance providing that a member of the fire department can be ordered by the fire chief to take a physical examination upon belief that his health is impaired.

The ordinance provides that the firemen for which such examination is ordered is immediately placed upon suspension until he receives a clean bill of health.

The fire officials pointed out that the provision possibly could result in removal of firemen through political motivation. No formal objection to the clause was made, however.

New City Code
The revised fire department ordinance is the last of a large number of city ordinances to be revised by Hartman to be included in a new city code.

An effort to pass the revised ordinances was made in Friday's meeting, keeping the council in session until after 11 p.m., but action was delayed pending preparation of several additional ordinance chapters for sections covering the issuance of tavern licenses and the removal of junk automobiles under the nuisance law.

Lengthy discussion developed over the tavern license provisions, which establish a $500 annual license for taverns and liquor stores but a $75 annual license for clubs.

Alderman Hampton argued that the ordinance as now drawn places no limitations on clubs and said that any group which could secure a state charter could operate for $75 a year, competing with a tavern operator who pays a $500 license. Hartman said he would revise the section.

Order Fire Pumper
The council awarded a contract to the Towers Fire & Apparatus Co. of Freeburg for a new fire pumper on a bid price of $29,941, plus $300 for a custom control panel. The offer was the lowest of three bids received two weeks ago.

Alderman George Mangiaracina, chairman of the police committee, moved to table bids on two new police cars.

He said specifications would be prepared in time to receive bids for opening at the next council session Nov. 3.

000 tons of flat rolled steel products in the first nine months this year compared with production of 1,063,000 tons and shipments of 845,000 tons in the same period last year.

"The market for flat rolled products has shown some improvement since the end of the third quarter," Veeder said, "and we are continuing to forge ahead in the step-by-step process of bringing our new oxygen steelmaking plant, new hot strip mill and allied production operations to full efficiency."

35-Cent Dividend
The board of directors of Granite City Steel, meeting at its headquarters in Granite City, declared a cash dividend for the fourth quarter of 1967 of 35 cents per share of common stock outstanding, payable Dec. 15, 1967, to stockholders of record Nov. 22.

The company paid a cash dividend of 35 cents per share in each of the first three quarters this year, the same as has been paid each quarter since the first quarter of 1960.

Today's declaration places the total paid per share in 1967 at $1.40.

City Clean Air Chairman Figures 11% Pollutant Cut

An 11% reduction in the existing level of air pollution can be expected under the rules and regulations adopted by the city council over the mayor's veto last week, it was stated today by Henry S. Bieniecki, chairman of the city air pollution control board.

"They are generally being complied with already," Bieniecki said, "and contrary to a statement attributed to me, I do not expect the rules to give the local board any trouble."

"Local industries have submitted letters of intent and air pollution emission data. In the few cases where they are not yet in full compliance, it is expected they will submit copies of their correction plans as required by the state board by next April."

"These correction plans do not have to meet a specific timetable, but it is presumed such corrections will be made within the next few years."

Local industries not in compliance with the city-state standards were listed in a recent report prepared by Prof. Ervin Hoelcher, acting technical secretary for the local board. These include the open hearth furnaces at American Steel Foundries, the main system of the sinter plant at Granite City Steel Co. and the union steel mill transport at the Granite City Refining Co.

"The city attorney and the mayor," Bieniecki continued, "have both expressed concern over the legal aspects of the ordinance. However, this appears to me to be a theoretical problem. The current general compliance with the ordinance is not likely to lead to appeals to the courts, where legal points might be raised."

State Championship 'Penny' Exhibit Displayed

The state winning entry of the Elite Hairdressers Affiliate 33 which won at the recent state convention at Springfield is on display at the First Granite City National Bank.

The display includes a strait-jacketed styrofoam "penny" covered with copper paint and a costume covered with 2200 new pennies. The Lincoln head was done by Ralph Henry and the hair style by Mrs. Judy Broshew. The model was Mrs. Sue Cook.

"They are generally being complied with already," Bieniecki said, "and contrary to a statement attributed to me, I do not expect the rules to give the local board any trouble."

'Yule Mail Call' Listing Grows Longer, and Longer

A helicopter pilot, who recently left for duty in Vietnam, and a soldier presently stationed at Chu Lai, who will spend ten days next month in Hawaii with his wife before returning to the combat area are among Quad-City military personnel listed in today's expanded "Yule Mail Call."

Specialist Fifth Class Larry R. Lipe, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo B. Lipe, 1735 Pontoon road, is expected to arrive on leave Nov. 4 in Hawaii, where he will be joined the same day by his wife, the former Miss Diane James of Granite City.

A 1964 graduate of Granite City high school, SP/5 Lipe enlisted in the Army on Sept. 15, 1965, after attending McDevree College at Lebanon. He has been serving in Vietnam with the 221st Supply and Service Co., since April.

The couple's 12-month-old son, David Todd Lipe, will remain with his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles James, at their home in Wood River while his mother travels to Hawaii. James is a retired Army officer, formerly was stationed at the Granite City Army Depot.

A recent arrival in Vietnam is Warrant Officer Reggie Welser, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Welser, reside at 116 Springfield avenue, Mitchell.

A newly-commissioned helicopter pilot, WO Welser has been assigned to the 192nd Assault Helicopter Co.

Additional lists will be published as names and addresses of servicemen or women are received by the Press-Record. It is suggested that readers clip out and retain the lists as they appear, adding the military personnel to their Christmas lists.

Relatives, friends, church and service groups, former employers and other individuals are invited to provide the holiday season for military personnel in "Yule Mail Call."

To ensure proper delivery, it is important to accurately list the individual's name, rank, serial number and address, including APO or FPO number when applicable.

Those designating names and addresses of Armed Forces personnel serving at home or abroad are asked to send the information by letter or postcard, or bring the written details to the Press-Record office, 1515 Delmar avenue.

New Location For Santa's Cabin

Santa Claus' cabin will be refurbished and ready for its new location at Civic Park on Niedringhaus avenue shortly before Thanksgiving, it was reported today by Morris Helman, chairman of the Santa committee for the Downtown Granite City Shopping Center Association.

Helman said the cabin this year will be off the street and will be near the main entrance to Civic Park (the old post office site).

The special committee has not yet set the date for Santa's arrival or any other schedule of activities for the holiday season, but the committee's planning sessions are under way.

The seven-year-old cabin must be completely refurbished before being placed at the park. Helman said vandals broke the lock and started a fire inside, causing considerable damage. "We'll have it ready in time for Santa's arrival here," he commented.

Formerly, the cabin was located at 19th street and Edison avenue. Permission was given last week by the city council for the new location.

Arthritis Foundation, Visiting Nurses Aid Quad-Cityans

One of the newer agencies of the Tri-Cities Area United Fund is the Arthritis Foundation, and last year, 13 local residents were aided.

Mitchell B. Milonski, general chairman of the current $384,000 fund campaign, said the foundation has a local budget of $200 to provide a program of treatment and education for local arthritis sufferers.

He pointed out the foundation is another instance in which a United Fund agency is supported by more than one community. The foundation office is located at 1221 South Grand Blvd. in St. Louis.

The victims of arthritis and rheumatism may be aided through the physical therapy department at St. Elizabeth Hospital here or at the clinic at St. Louis University, the Jewish Hospital-Karon Waldheim Clinic and the Washington University Clinic.

Physicians may refer their patients who need clinic facilities to the foundation, which is in Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, and patient care includes drugs, x-rays, physical therapy and needed appliances.

A part of the allocation to the foundation supports research into the causes and cures for rheumatic diseases as well as making available to local physicians the many publications and manuals of the Arthritis

Foundation.

The United Fund also provides services to Quad-Cityans through the Visiting Nurse Association, which is located at 4601 State street, East St. Louis, and has nurses for this area.

Nursing care and treatment is given to patients confined to their homes or too ill to visit the doctors' offices. Each patient must be under the direction and supervision of a physician.

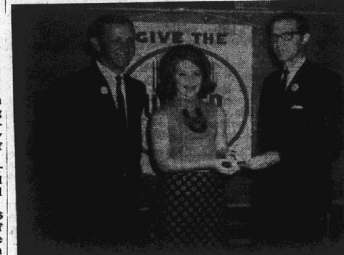

The services are given by registered professional nurses with special training in public health nursing. Rehabilitation nursing is also available, using physical therapy to assist patients to regain self-sufficiency or to require a minimum of care.

Patients are asked to pay for visits, but fees are graduated according to the financial status of the family.

The association reported 1686 visits in this area in 1966 of which 45.8% were at no charge since the cost was underwritten by the United Fund.

A special arrangement is carried out through the United Fund so visits to cancer patients in this area are underwritten by the local UF Health Services Fund.

The group will explore ways for Allied to maintain its position in 1968 as the world's largest long-distance moving organization, Moor said. It will receive administrative, financial and operational reports, and hear presentations on such subjects as the firm's use of electronic computers.

Speeding, Turn, Lane Crossing Charges Filed

Speeding charges were filed by Granite City police Friday night against Joyce Hayes, Cahokia, in the 250 block of Madison avenue; Alma Bogovich, 2 Rivers drive, 2800 block of Madison avenue; and Wallace Cook, 1130 Reynolds street, 20th street near Park avenue.

Joseph Pashea, 215 Sheridan avenue, was charged with speed at 2 a.m. Saturday at Johnson road and Del Rio drive.

Charges of turning left without an arrow Friday morning at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues were filed against Earl Potter, Route Two, Edwardsville, and Jake Hayes, 2929 Denver street.

Other traffic arrests Friday included Helen Wilson, 3221 Washington avenue, driving north one-way State street between Niedringhaus avenue and 22nd street; and James Harshy, 1 Queensbury court, improper lane usage on Nameoki road at 3111 avenue.

James Gibbs, 135 Garesche Homes, Madison, was charged with careless driving at 14th street and Edwardsville road at 2:45 a.m. Saturday. Melvin Scott, Route One, was booked for passing gates at the 20th street railroad crossing at 4 a.m. Saturday.

Delagations Sought Action
A delegation of Arlington Heights residents requested the action, pointing out that through traffic on Route 111 during rush hours causes congestion at that point and delays many drivers in getting through the intersection or breaking in to Route 111 off SA 35.

Briggs said he will ask the highway division to make a survey with a view toward installation of either a four-way stop or traffic signals.

The board approved bills and adjourned until Nov. 7.

Nameoki Board Moves to File Annexation Suit

The Nameoki township board moved officially Friday night to oppose by legal action the annexation of the 10-acre site of Maryville grade school by Granite City.

The action was taken on a motion by town board member Herbert Polley in line with a recently announced policy to fight all attempts by Granite City to acquire Nameoki township territory through annexation.

Granite City council members adopted last week an ordinance annexing the school and its grounds, at the request of the school district, which wants city police and fire protection and other services for the school.

Council members have indicated that they feel the school district should pay the costs of any litigation that develops from the annexation.

Claims Move Illegal

Nameoki township already has filed quoramus proceedings to challenge annexation of the Grigsby junior high school site, claiming that the 20-acre site is not contiguous to Granite City boundaries.

On Polley's motion, town attorney Nick Vasiloff was instructed to prepare and file a Maryville school annexation.

Vasiloff reported to the board that further action in the Grigsby school proceeding depends upon the setting of hearings on motions filed by the school district has filed a motion to intervene in the proceedings against Granite City.

Filed Dismissal Motion

An accompanying motion to dismiss the Nameoki quoramus suit also was filed. Vasiloff said, if the motion to intervene is upheld, arguments then will be docketed on the dismissal motion, he reported.

The town board voted to pay $487 to the village of Pontoon Beach as the amount due the village in 1965 road and bridge taxes.

Payment of the tax share was overlooked two years ago because the village was not included in a listing of taxes due the village. The amount due was confirmed by County Treasurer John Keschik.

Harry Briggs, township supervisor, announced he plans to make a formal request to the Illinois state highway division at French Village for further traffic control at the intersection of Route Two, Edwardsville, and Route 111. Traffic now stops on SA 35 at 111.

When your menu calls for pork or lamb chops, remember that there are three kinds — loin, rib, and shoulder. All are equally flavorful and nourishing, but the shoulder varieties will give your budget a better break.

Here's a simple main-dish meal: When scrambling eggs add bits of cooked ham, crisp bacon, fresh chives, or sautéed green pepper for extra flavor. Mince onion and diced boiled potatoes also add goodness to scrambled eggs.

Fall Fashions

If you shop for clothes for men, or just enjoy knowing that your family is fashionably dressed, you'll be interested in the Fall fashion forecast for men. "Highly masculine" is the key to men's fashions this fall. Long hair, granny prints, odd shirts, and other such items are "out." Blue Grey suits are "in."

will run a close second, while black, brown tones, and greens are fashionable, too. Neckwear moves from cluttered paisleys and geometrics toward subdued classic patterns. They go best with those fashionably patterned colorful dress shirts.

Market Trends

Meats—Beef prices are firm. The forequarter cuts are the best buys. Pork prices have gone down in the last few weeks. The better buys are butts, loins, shoulders and ribs. Ham and bacon prices are about the same. Fryer prices are down a little. Turkey prices are about the same and will probably stay that way until after the holidays.

Fruits and Vegetables

The good fruit buys include apples, grapes and Idaho plums. The good buys in vegetables are cabbage, yellow onions, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, turnips, greens (mustard and turnip top), squash (acorn and butternut) and radishes.

The Indoor-Outdoor Carpet

Although olefin fibers have been around for the past few years, their recent success in the rug business has made olefin a household word. Olefin made its mark as an outside covering for patios, poolside areas and walkways. And it has now moved inside the house to carpet action spots, such as kitchens, playrooms, dens and utility rooms.

The main advantage of ole-fin carpeting is ease of care. You just vacuum the kitchen floor or use a damp sponge to wipe up most spots—no "scrubbing." It is soft and stain-resistant—essential qualities in a kitchen or utility area. It has low static buildup, is mildew-proof and has the lowest water-absorbency level of all fibers. Olefin is a strong fiber that has the ability to "take it" in all sorts of wear and weather. But unless the pile density is high, olefin carpets may show wear patterns more rapidly than wool carpets.

The fiber's low melting point has not been a serious factor, particularly inside a house. And although a cigarette will melt the fiber, the fabric will not flame.

It would take a textile chemist to describe olefin completely, but it originates from a petroleum product. When olefin first came into the textile world, it was used primarily for seacovers for automobiles and outdoor furniture, in marine ropes, shoe fabrics, belts and handbags. Then the rug business discov-

SIU-SW Guest Artist Series To Open Nov. 1

The Gregg Smith Singers, termed "the best choral ensemble in the country" by the Music Journal, will open the Southern Illinois University guest artist series Nov. 1 at 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater on the Southwestern campus.

The group of 24 singers has won high acclaim, not only in the U. S. but also for appearances in practically every music festival in Europe. At the Edinburgh Festival, the Glasgow Herald said the singers' performance was "without doubt one of the great musical events of the season." The London Times said their intonation was "perfect," and their sensitivity to details of musical style and texture admirable.

At SIU, the Gregg Smith Singers, Charles Ives, Irving Berlin will perform works by Gabrieli, Monteverdi, and Men-zoni and other contemporary composers. Folk songs are also a part of the presentation.

The four remaining concerts in the 1967-68 SIU-SW guest artist series will be the Lenox Quartet, a string ensemble, Dec. 1; Alfons and Aloys Kontarsky, duo-pianists, Jan. 18, 1968; William Pierens, classical guitarist, Feb. 16; and the Center for New Music from the University of Iowa, April 5.

Reserved series tickets for all five concerts are available through Nov. 1 at the Division of Fine Arts. Season tickets are $7.50 for the general public and $5 for faculty, staff and students. Patrons, whose support will be acknowledged on the programs, will pay $10.

If there are seats left at performance time, they will be sold at $2 each.
